

Commissioner Pai is mistaken when suggesting that regulation hampers growth: unfettered growth is both unsustainable and dangerous (like a garden overrun with weeds), whereas a cultivated effort handled by a disciplined overseer (like a diligent gardener) reaps rewards now and long into the future.

Keep the internet open, keep the internet free, and use regulation in the best way possible; to ensure a level playing field and fertile resources for the world to unfold.

UPHOLD NET NEUTRALITY.